

Invention and Composition of Music

Invention #2

Bill Rowland

The image displays a musical score for a piano piece. It consists of three systems of music, each with a treble and bass staff. The first system is labeled 'Piano' on the left. The music is written in a key with two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature. The notation includes various rhythmic values such as eighth and sixteenth notes, as well as rests and accidentals. The piece is a two-part counterpoint, with the two staves of each system interacting to create a single melodic line.

In music, an invention is a short composition (usually for a keyboard instrument) with two-part counterpoint. (Compositions in the same style as an invention but using three-part counterpoint are known as sinfonias. Form - Development. The Invention and Composition of Music.
